

THE QUEEN'S VISIT

4/3/86

★ The Queen and Police Commissioner, Ken Thompson, about to present prizes to top graduates of the Centennial Wing.

★ Reviewing the Centennial Wing on the college parade ground.

★ "As my contribution to this centennial commemoration I have decided to confer upon the New Zealand Police College the title Royal," ... the Queen addressing the graduation parade.

★ A moment of amusement at the visit to the Taupo swamp.

PHOTOGRAPHS on this page were taken by Kapi-Mana News' reporter Patricia Campbell.

★ The Queen congratulates the Centennial Wing's top graduate, Constable Carey Griffiths, who received the Minister's prize for first in the wing and the Prater Memorial Practical Trophy. Between them, Sen Sgt "Rick" Bus in charge of the prizes.

★ The Queen shows her delight at the entertainment on the sports field behind the police college.